Empowering Talent & Communities

More than Connections, A Future of Unbound Potential

At NearTalents, We Transcend The Standard Freelancer-Project Connection. We Envision A Future Where Every Individual, Regardless Of Location Or Background, Can Surpass Their Limitations. In Partnership With Kearnit's E-Learning Platform, We're Creating A Comprehensive Empowerment Program. It's Not Just About Skill Development; It's A Revolution For Individuals And Communities Most Affected By Economic Hardship, Particularly In High Unemployment Areas And Rural Areas.

Hope Beacons in Underserved Communities

High Unemployment Areas across the U.S., often overlooked yet brimming with potential. We foster a vibrant ecosystem of growth and innovation, creating job opportunities, fostering creativity, and nurturing prosperity in Rural Areas and beyond. We collaborate with universities, actively participate in hackathons and bootcamps, and plant the seeds for a limitless future for all.

Our efforts shine brightly in regions like Latin America and

We believe investing in communities, especially those facing challenges like High Unemployment and Rural isolation, goes

Talent-Based Model Vs Quote-Based Model

All approved talents can provide services in the Talent-Based Model but some can be considered to be a part of the Quote-Based Model

Understand the Quote-Based Model

Understand the Talent-Based Model

This is a way for freelancers to work with clients on a more personalized and individual basis. In this model, each company has a separate agreement with each Talent, and either KIUBIX or NearTalents.com is NOT responsible for the agreement. This means that the freelancer and the client will negotiate the terms and conditions of their working relationship directly with each other

This is a project-based model used by NearTalents.com, where clients submit their project requirements to the platform. Based on the requirements, NearTalents.com creates a project proposal and sends it to the client. The proposal includes a list of potential talents who are suitable for the project. Once the client approves the proposal, the project is assigned to a Talent, and they start working on it. In this model, the client does not need to have direct contact with the Talent. Instead, the project is managed and supervised by NearTalents.com's Project Success Manager to ensure high-quality results.
